Edinburgh Castle is built on top of the basalt remains of an extinct volcano providing impressive views of the entire city and beyond. The oldest parts of the castle date back to the Normans but there are buildings and fortifications that cover every period since that time. The castle is home to, amongst other things, the Scottish Crown Jewels, the Stone of Destiny and the giant 15th century siege gun Mons Meg.

The Royal Yacht Britannia is a magnificent ship and has played host to some of the most famous people in the world. But, above all, she was home to Her Majesty the Queen and the Royal Family. First commissioned 11th January 1954 this floating palace served the royal family for over forty years conveying them to 696 foreign visits, 272 visits in British waters and steamed an unbelievable 1,087,623 nautical miles!

The Palace of Holyrood House is the official residence of the Queen and stands at the end of Edinburgh's Royal Mile against the spectacular backdrop of Arthur's Seat. This wonderful example of baroque architecture is closely associated with Scotland's rich history. The state apartments are still used by the Queen and other members of the royal family for state ceremonies and official entertaining.
